

INDIA CHINA CONVERSATIONS

Third Interdisciplinary Symposium for Emerging Scholars on India China Studies
Organized by the India China Institute, The New School, New York

M o n d a y

April 14, 2014

9:30 a.m. – 7:30 p.m.

Orozco Conference Room (A712),
66 W 12th St., 7th Floor
New York, New York

Partners: Centre for Policy Research, Horizon Research and Consultancy Group, Maulana Abul Kalam Azad Institute of Asian Studies, Observer Research Foundation, Yunnan Academy of Social Sciences, Yunnan University, University of Calcutta, indiachina@newschool.edu

www.indiachina.org

INDIA CHINA INSTITUTE
THE NEW SCHOOL

Overview

The Third Interdisciplinary Symposium for Emerging Scholars on India China Studies is part of the India China Institute's continuing commitment to build a community of scholars who are engaged in research that focuses on new and innovative approaches to understanding India-China relations. For nine years, the India China Institute has provided a space for the establishment and strengthening of scholarly networks for emerging scholars of India and China who wish to share their research and explore opportunities for advancing individual and collaborative scholarship. The Emerging Scholars program also draws on The New School's tradition of fostering horizontal and vertical knowledge sharing across disciplines and amongst scholars in different stages of their careers.

Following the symposiums held in China and India in November 2013, this symposium is the third part of a three-part symposium series. Seven presenters selected from the three countries for this symposium will share their work and participate in multi-disciplinary investigation and deliberation with distinguished scholars.

When discussing the work of each of the presenters, we hope to identify relevant methodological and substantive questions, and where possible answers, through a productive confrontation of diverse disciplinary perspectives. We hope that the symposium will provide a milestone in the intellectual definition and institutional development of the field, enhance the sense of community within it, and help to foster more productive directions for teaching and scholarship.

The Third Interdisciplinary Symposium for Emerging Scholars on India China Studies is in collaboration with the Centre for Policy Research, Horizon Research and Consultancy Group, the Maulana Abul Kalam Azad Institute of Asian Studies, Observer Research Foundation, Yunnan Academy of Social Sciences, Yunnan University, and the University of Calcutta.

This symposium series is generously supported by the Starr Foundation.

The India China Institute (ICI) at The New School, a university in New York City, supports research, teaching and discussion on India, China and the United States, with special focus on making comparisons and understanding interactions between the three countries as well as their joint impact on the rest of the world. ICI is the hub of an international network of scholars, leaders, and opinion-makers. Through fellowships, courses, public events, publications, and collaboration with a wide range of institutions around the world, ICI promotes academic and public understanding of issues of contemporary relevance.

Event Schedule

Monday, April 14, 2014 | Orozco Conference Room (A712) |
66 W 12th St., 7th Floor, New York

9:00-9:30 Registration (light breakfast and coffee will be provided)

9:30-9:45 Opening Remarks

Tim Marshall, Provost and Chief Academic Officer, The New School

Ashok Gurung, Senior Director of India China Institute

9:45-12:30 Session I: Fragmented Geographies, Diasporas, and FDI

Chair: Nimmi Kurian,

Associate Professor, Centre for Policy Research and former ICI fellow and ICI representative in India

Paper 1 Uttam Lal, Assistant Professor, Geography & Natural Resources Management, Sikkim University, India

“Suturing Fragmented Geographies through Fragmented Land Route”

Paper 2 Su Ying, PhD Candidate, Institute of International Studies, Yunnan University, China

“Indians' Attitudes towards English”

Paper 3 Min Ye, Assistant Professor, Department of International Relations, Boston University

“Institutions, Diffusion by Diasporas: Foreign Direct Investment in China and India”

Paper 4 Yu Zheng, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, University of Connecticut

“Institutions, Labor Mobility, and Foreign Direct Investment in China and India”

Discussants Liu Jian, Senior Professor, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences (Paper 1)

Siddiq Wahid, Distinguished Expert on India China Studies, and Adjunct Fellow of Institute of Chinese Studies, India (Paper 1)

Paula Banerjee, Associate Professor, Dept. of South and Southeast Asian Studies at the University of Calcutta, and visiting Fulbright Scholar with SUNY Oswego and Onondaga Community College (Paper 2)

Jonathan Bach, Chair of the interdisciplinary Global Studies undergraduate program and Associate Professor of International Affairs, The New School (Paper 2) (TBC)

Qin Gao, Ph.D., Associate Professor, Fordham University Graduate School of Social Service, and Visiting Scholar of India China Institute (Paper 3)

Vamsi Vakulabharnam, Associate Professor of economics at the University of Hyderabad, and Visiting Scholar of India China Institute (Paper 3)

Ren Jia, President, Yunnan Academy of Social Sciences (Paper 4)

Cui Zhiyuan, Professor, School of Public Policy and Management, Tsinghua University, and Visiting Scholar of India China Institute (Paper 4)

Question and Answers

12:30-14:00 Lunch

14:00-16:00 Session II: Histories & the Politics of Land Acquisition

Chair: Sanjay Reddy, Associate Professor of Economics, NSSR, The New School, and Academic Co-Director of India China Institute (TBC)

Paper 5 Nirmola Sharma, Doctoral Candidate, East Asian Studies, University of Delhi, India
“Compulsions and Contestations of Ideology: The India National Army’s Justification For Collaboration with the Japanese in Occupied China (1942-1945)”

Paper 6 Huang Yinghong, Assistant Professor, Sun Yat-sen University, China
“Between Justice and Development: The Mixed Stories of Land acquisition in India and China”

Paper 7 Prakash Kashwan, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, University of Connecticut
“Institutional Political Economy of Land Acquisition in India (with a Glance over the Himalayas)”

Discussants L.H.M. Ling, Associate Dean of Faculty Affairs New School for Public Engagement (NSPE) and Associate Professor of Graduate Program in International Affairs, The New School (Paper 5)

Tansen Sen, Associate Professor of Baruch College, The City University of New York (Paper 5)

Mark Frazier, Professor of Politics, NSSR, and Academic Co-Director of India China Institute (Paper 6)

Hari Vasudevan, Professor, Department of History, University of Calcutta (Paper 6)

Alka Acharya, Professor in Chinese Studies, Centre for East Asian Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, and Director of Institute of Chinese Studies, India (Paper 7)

Vamsi Vakulabharnam, Associate Professor of economics at the University of Hyderabad, and India China Institute Fellow (Paper 7)

Question and Answers

16:00-16:15 Closing Remarks

Mark Frazier, Professor of Politics, NSSR, and Academic Co-Director of India China Institute

17:00-18:30 Panel Discussion: Re-envisioning India China Studies

At Theresa Lang Center | 55 W. 13th St., 2nd Floor

Moderator: Ashok Gurung, Senior Director, India China Institute

Tansen Sen, Associate Professor of Baruch College, The City University of New York

Alka Acharya, Director, Institute of Chinese Studies, India

Liu Jian, Senior Professor, Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, China

18:30-19:30 Reception at Theresa Lang Center
