THE FOURTH ANNUAL INTERDISCIPLINARY SYMPOSIUM FOR EMERGING SCHOLARS ON INDIA CHINA STUDIES

April 13-14, 2015 - The New School, New York, USA

The India China Institute at The New School, Zhejiang University and Panjab University invite abstract submissions for the Fourth Annual Interdisciplinary Symposium For Emerging Scholars on India China Studies. The symposium will be held at The New School in New York City on April 13-14, 2015.

This unique initiative is designed to provide a platform for researchers pursuing an advanced degree in MPhil/PhD work and young scholars who received their PhDs within the last 5 years to present their ongoing research. Advanced Master's degree students from professional fields such as law, design, and architecture are also welcome to apply. We look forward to creative interventions from any discipline, methodology, or combination thereof that address any aspect of India's economic, social, cultural, and political development. Papers with a strong analytical focus on India-China interactions, comparisons, and impact will be given preference. Abstracts should clearly state the paper's key research questions as well as its theoretical framework. Applicants should also clearly state the theme's overall relevance and if the theme is part of the applicant's ongoing research work. Only papers not previously published will be accepted.

The symposium is a part of ICI's continuing commitment to build a community of scholars who are engaged in research that focuses on new and innovative approaches to understanding India China relations. For a decade, ICI has provided a space for the establishment and strengthening of scholarly networks for emerging scholars of India and China who wish to share their research and explore opportunities for advancing individual and collaborative scholarship. The emerging scholars program also draws on The New School's tradition of fostering horizontal and vertical knowledge-sharing across disciplines and amongst scholars in different stages of their careers.

SUBMISSION REQUIREMENTS

To participate in the symposium, interested candidates are invited to send a proposal not exceeding 1,000 words. The proposal should clearly mention your name, current affiliation, and contact information. The last date for submission of proposals is October 31, 2014.

All submissions should be sent by email to icisymposium@gmail.com.
Hard copy submissions will not be accepted.

The Call for Papers is open only for young scholars based outside of China and India. We will provide domestic travel arrangement within the US as well as accommodation. International airfare will not be provided.

REVIEW PROCESS

Selected scholars will be notified by November 28, 2014. Selected scholars will then be required to submit full-length papers (word length 6,000 words) by January 30, 2015.
